

Gastronomic Glory

Foodies, get ready – the annual World Gourmet Summit returns for its 21st year from 20 March to 16 April 2017. Experience food and wine at its best with over 12 influential masterchefs from around the world, including Chef Mitch Lienhard from California and Chef Dharshan Munidasa from Sri Lanka (pictured). Crowned the global winner of the S.Pellegrino Young Chef 2016 competition, Chef Lienhard currently works in Manresa, a three-Michelin starred restaurant that offers contemporary Californian cuisine with French and modern Catalan influences. Another participating guest chef on our radar is Chef Munidasa, best known for having founded two of Sri Lanka's hottest restaurants, Nihonbashi and Ministry of Crab. For details on gourmet dinners, masterclasses and other epicurean events, visit worldgourmetsummit.com. ▶

Party On!

Birthday at a bar? Been there, done that. How about a pizza-making and prosecco party? Sign us up! Whether you're celebrating something special or just want to get your friends together for some feasting, the newly launched, private pizza-prosecco party at Jamie's Italian Singapore makes for some great group fun. Priced at $48 per person, the two-hour session includes a pizza-making lesson with Jamie's culinary team at the restaurant's VivoCity location – before sitting down to devour the pizzas prepared! – plus two glasses of prosecco each, and a take-home apron. For bookings, email reservations@jamiesitalian.sg. jamieoliver.com/italian/singapore ▲

New Bites

- Housed in a two-storey conservation shophouse, new whisky and sumiyaki bar The Wall has opened at 76 Tanjong Pagar Road, offering pairing sets (from $49), whisky flights and cocktails, and rare bottles like the Yamazaki 50 years – distilled in 1961, with only 150 bottles available worldwide.
- American diner-inspired restaurant One Night Only has popped up at 397 River Valley Road, serving all-day breakfast and comfort food like chicken-fried steak ($27) and maple bacon pancakes ($16.50).

